

Supervising and Managing People Workshop 2020

Presented by

FlashPoint.

Day One

- 8:00 a.m. Registration and Continental Breakfast
- 8:30 a.m. Your Management Style
As a manager, having self-awareness of how you “show up” to others is critical, and this session introduces participants to one of the most powerful tools to understand what that looks like. The DiSC® learning model and the four basic styles of management provide that awareness using videos, an overview of each style and discussions on the aspects of managing that participants tend to enjoy or find draining. Managers will reflect on what they learned and will be well-positioned to understand possible adaptations to be made to strengthen relationships with others.
- 10:30 a.m. Break
- 10:45 a.m. Communication Skills for Managers
Effective communication is a challenge in any organization and even more of a challenge for managers. This session provides clarity around what effective communication looks like, what skill level is needed for anyone in a managerial role and how you can effectively communicate within a team and across the organization.
- 11:45 a.m. Lunch (provided)
- 12:45 p.m. Communication Skills for Managers, continued
- 1:45 p.m. Break
- 2:00 p.m. Conflict Management
Managers are constantly dealing with disagreements, disputes or differences of opinion with customers, co-workers and direct reports. This session provides ways that diffuse emotion, bring the focus back to the issue at hand and promote a positive ending to the problem for all parties.
- 3:15 p.m. Break
- 3:30 p.m. Conflict Management, continued
- 4:30 p.m. Adjourn for the Day

Day Two

8:00 a.m. Continental Breakfast

8:30 a.m. Providing Performance Feedback

Providing performance feedback is an important part of any employee's performance management. Constructive coaching and feedback help employees on a couple of levels: They become more committed to, and invested in, not only their own work outcomes but also their organization's overall success. This session will provide managers with a general process for providing performance feedback that keeps employees aligned with performance goals and standards.

10:30 a.m. Break

10:45 a.m. Managing Multiple Generations

For the first time in history, five generations will be working side by side in the workplace. The responsibility of whether this multigenerational workplace feels happy and productive or over-challenged and stressful falls in large part to managers. This session will increase your awareness of the various generations in the workplace today and demonstrate how you can strengthen your relationships through the understanding of generational working preferences.

11:45 a.m. Lunch (provided)

1:45 p.m. Break

2:00 p.m. Engagement and Motivation

In today's competitive business landscape, employees need to achieve, grow and contribute more than ever before. Employees who are recognized for their efforts are more likely to be engaged – and engaged employees are more motivated to achieve the organization's goals and more likely to go the extra mile when necessary. This session provides tools and strategies for building an environment that leads to increased employee engagement.
